FAQ — short, honest answers

Q: Is the bonus free?

A: Yes — signup bonuses are typically credited as platform credits or promotional balances. They're "free" in that you don't pay for them, but they often come with terms like trading volume or expiry.

Q: Can I withdraw the bonus immediately?

A: Usually not. Most bonuses must be converted through trading activity or meet withdrawal criteria set in the promotion's terms.

Q: Is the Bybit Referral code "NEW500" valid worldwide?

A: Not always. Availability depends on your country's regulations. Check Bybit's promotions page or T&Cs during signup.

Q: Will using a referral code affect my privacy?

A: No — referral codes only link the signup to a promotion. You still control your account information and privacy settings.

Final note

Referral codes like Bybit Referral NEW500 are a helpful nudge to begin trading, but they're not a guarantee of profits. Use the $30020 USDT bonus to learn the platform, start with small positions, and you'll get 60% off on trading fees with my code so always trade within your risk tolerance. Crypto is all about risk but you'll get high profits by becoming an affiliate partner. If anything in the promotion is unclear, open Bybit's help center or customer support for specifics.
